It is vital that people with type 2 diabetes understand their increased risk of CVD and what they can do about it.